Market Development Cooperator Program Healthcare Service Exports

For 2007, Rush University Medical Center estimates that up to 103,000 foreign citizens came to the U.S. for medical care.

In 2010, MDCP awarded $499,000 to Rush's partner, University HealthSystems Consortium, to help improve understanding of foreign consumers of U.S. healthcare. This investment is expected to lead to a $36 million increase in service exports over three years.

This award, combined with the four other 2010 MDCP awards, is expected to lead to at least $265 million in exports over three years.
