

China Standards Notes

December 4th, 2009

- The Standardization Administration of China (SAC) is seeking public comments for 17 national standards proposals; comments are due to SAC by December 30th. <http://www.sac.gov.cn/templet/default/ShowArticle.jsp?id=5387>
- In an effort to keep China's national standards current, SAC is inviting Chinese ministries, industry organizations, companies and technical committees to review standards that were issued for five years. This effort would also help to enhance the adaptability and effectiveness of China's national standards. SAC plans to conclude its reevaluation by April 2010. <http://www.sac.gov.cn/templet/default/ShowArticle.jsp?id=5386>
- The Certification and Accreditation Administration of China (CNCA) is seeking public comments on a voluntary national standard Food Safety Regional Management System – Requirements (20081110-T-4690); comments are due by December 24th. <http://www.cnca.gov.cn/cnca/zwx/xwdt/zxtz/229802.shtml>
- On December 8, CNCA will host an online interview with Mr. Xu Zengde, Director of Science and Standards Administrative Department on Promoting Certification, Accreditation, Inspection and Quarantine Development in China. <http://www.cnca.gov.cn/cnca/gg.html>
