

Brazil Issues Preliminary Determination in the Antidumping Duty Investigation into Polyethylene Resin from the United States and Canada

Brazil Issues Preliminary Determination in the Antidumping Duty Investigation into Polyethylene Resin from the United States and Canada

On August 20, 2025, Brazil’s Department of Trade Remedies (DECOM) issued a preliminary determination in its ongoing antidumping duty (AD) investigation into polyethylene resin (PE resin) from the United States and Canada. The provisional rates assigned to U.S. producers/exporters can be found here.

KEY DATES
Comment Deadline	October 30, 2025
Provisional Duty Collection Start Date	August 28, 2025
Provisional Duty Collection Period (months)	Six Months
Statement of Essential Facts*	December 19, 2025
Final Determination*	No later than May 14, 2026

*Estimated

Product Under Investigation

The product subject to this investigation is polyethylene resin (PE resin). PE resin is a versatile material used in a wide range of applications, including?packaging, construction, and consumer goods.?It is commonly found in products such as plastic bags, bottles, pipes, and artificial grass.?The merchandise under investigation is currently classified under Harmonized Tariff Schedule (HS) codes: 3901.10.30, 3901.20.29, and 3901.40.00.

Contact Us

The U.S. Department of Commerce’s Office of Trade Remedy Compliance supports U.S. companies facing foreign trade remedy proceedings (antidumping duty, countervailing duty, and safeguard actions) and ensures foreign governments comply with their international trade obligations. Should you have any questions, please contact TRCS@trade.gov. For more information, visit Office of Trade Remedy Compliance.