Onerous or Discriminatory Certifications, Standards and Regulations

Where particularly onerous or discriminatory barriers are imposed by a foreign government, a U.S. company may be able to obtain help from the U.S. Government to press for their removal. In these cases, the firm should:

- File an online complaint with the Trade Compliance Center.
- Contact the U.S. Trade Representative \(USTR\) in Washington DC at (202) 395-3000.
