

U.S. Free Trade Agreement Partner Countries

A list of countries with whom the United States maintains trade agreements.

U.S. Free Trade Agreement Partner Countries

U.S. Free Trade Agreement (FTA) partner countries provide greater market access through reduced or eliminated tariffs, intellectual property protection, and elimination of non-tariff barriers among other provisions. Accessing FTA markets can give your product or service a competitive advantage over products from other countries.

The U.S. has 14 FTAs with 20 countries which comprise about 40 percent of U.S. goods' exports. Check out the listing below to learn more about each FTA country and the potential benefits to your bottom line. Find additional resources (including FTA Texts) and Tools to Navigate FTAs by visiting the FTA Help Center.

Australia
Bahrain
Chile
CAFTA-DR (Costa Rica, Dominican Republic, El Salvador, Guatemala, Honduras & Nicaragua)
Colombia
Israel
Jordan
Korea
Morocco
Oman
Panama
Peru

Singapore

USMCA (United States-Canada-Mexico) (Formerly NAFTA)